FAC-SIMILES OF NATIONAL MANUSCRIPTS OF IRELAND, FROM THE EARLIEST EXISTENT SPECIMENS TO 1719. Edited by J. T. GILBERT; Part I. is out of print; Parts II. and III. 2d. 2e. each; Part IV.---1. 5d. 5s.; Part IV.---2. 4d. 10s.

This work forms a comprehensive Paleographic Series for Ireland. It furnishes characteristic specimens of the documents which have come down from each of the classes which in past ages, formed principal elements in the population of Ireland, or exercised an influence in her affairs. With the reproductions are combined fac-similes of writings connecting with eminent personages or transactions of importance in the annals of the country to the early part of the eighteenth century.

The specimens have been reproduced as nearly as possible in accordance with the originals, in dimensions, colouring, and general appearance. Characteristic examples of styles of writing and caligraphic ornamentation are, as far as practicable, associated with subjects of historic and linguistic interest. Descriptions of the various manuscripts are given by the Editor in the Introduction. The contents of the specimens are fully elucidated and printed in the original languages, opposite to the fac-similes—lines for lines—without constrictions in facilitating reference and aiding effectively those interested in paleographic studies.

The work is also printed in full, for the first time, many original and important historical documents.

Part I. commences with the earliest Irish MSS. extant.
Part II. From the Twelfth Century to 1299.
Part III. From 1300 to end of reign of Henry VIII.
Part IV.---1. From reign of Edward VI. to that of James I.
Part IV.---2. The work is carried down to the early part of the eighteenth century, with Index to the entire publicist.
