and the reversion of the priory after his death; the reversion of the 100 marks which John Cornewall, knight, and Elizabeth Lancaster his wife, late the wife of John Holand, earl of Huntingdon, receive from the possessions of the abbey of Seez in the counties of Sussex and Lincoln, after their deaths, should such deaths occur in the life time of Nicholas Jagtolay, monk, Richard Wakehurst, William Ryman and Michael le Fourner, monk, farmers of all the lands, tenements and possessions in England of the said alien abbey of Seez during the war, and the reversion of the lands themselves on the termination of the estate of the said farmers; the reversion of 937. 6s. 8d. from the custody of the manor of Michelhampton parcel of the possessions of the abbey of Caen, on the death of Joan, queen of England, should she die in the life time of Catherine Bromwich, who holds the manor at farm during the war by the name of the custody of the manor of Michelhampton belonging to the abbess of Caen an alien, and the manor itself on the determination of the estate of the said Catherine; 437. 6s. 11d. a year by the hands of Richard Mawardyn and William Westbury, farmers for the duration of the war of the manor of Tleshide, parcel of the abbey of Caen, and the reversion of said manor itself on the termination of their estate; the reversion of 877. 13s. 4d., which William Tristour, 'sadeser,' receives yearly out of the farm of the priory of Lodres, and of certain possessions of the same until he be satisfied of the sum of 7017. 6s. 8d. should he be so satisfied in the life time of William Burnell, prior and farmer of the said priory and its said possessions, and the reversion of the same priory and its possessions on the determination of the estate of the said Burnell; the reversion of 50 marks a year, which William Bourchier, knight, receives yearly for life, should the war with France last so long, out of the 140 marks, 6s. 8d. which he was bound to pay to the late king for the custody of the manor and rectory of Felstede, co. Essox, parcel of the abbey of Caen (whereof the said late king pardoned him 40 marks a year), on the death of the said William Bourchier; the reversion of 207. 6s. 8d., which Joan, queen of England, receives for life from the said custody, after her death, should she die in the life time of the said William Bourchier; 137. 6s. 8d. remnant of the said farm rendered by the same William, and the reversion of the said manor and rectory themselves on his death; the reversion of 90L a year which the said queen receives for life from the custody of all the lands, tenements and possessions in England of the abbey of St. Nicholas of Angers, in the county of Buckingham and in Spaldyng, co. Lincoln, and from the fruits of the church of Coshamb by the hands of Hugh Lutterell, knight, and John Lutterell, farmers of the same for the duration of the war, should the said queen die in their life-time, and the reversion of the said lands, tenements, possessions and fruits on the determination of the estate of the said Hugh and John; a certain portion in the church of Mertock, co. Somersett, belonging to the abbey of Mont St. Michel; and 4 luns of Gascon wine to be taken yearly out the king's wines in the port of London, by the hands of the butler or his deputees; to hold the premises with all manner of hundreds, leets, towns, wapentakes, views of frankpledge, manors, lands, tenements, possessions, rents, services, suits, villeins, churches, portions, pensions, alms, knights' fees, advowsons, liberties, franchises and profits to the same belonging, to the intent that the said bishops, duke, Henry Fitz Hugh, Roger and the rest should assign them to the said religious persons and their successors, as the endowment of their said house when so founded as aforesaid. The said king also granted to the same bishops, duke, Henry Fitz Hugh, Roger and the rest the remainder of any such of the premises as should