MEMBRANE 6.

March 1. Assignment, by advice of the council, to Henry, bishop of Winchester, his executors and attorneys, pursuant to the Act of the last Parliament, for securing him and others willing to lend to the king, and in consideration of his having lent 14,000 marks, of all subsidies from wool, lides, woolfells and tin, tuns of wine and other merchandise, shipped from Easter next in the ports of London, Kingston-on-Hull and Ipswich, to the amount of 8,000 marks; viz., 3,000 marks from London, 3,000 marks from Kingston-on-Hull, and 2,000 marks from Ipswich. The remainder is to be paid by the treasurer of England, viz., 3,000 marks at Christmas next and 3,000 marks at Midsummer following. Moreover, in the event of the bishop, his executors or assigns, being unable to obtain payment on the date limited, of any obligation given by any treasurer for security of repayment of any part of the said sum of 8,000 marks, such obligations are to be restored, and the amount made good to the said bishop, his executors or assigns, out of the king's treasury, or from some other source; and, should the repayment of the said other sum of 6,000 marks, or of any part thereof fall into arrears, it shall be lawful for the said bishop, his executors or assigns, to sell, alienate, or otherwise treat as his own, certain goods and jewels of the king delivered to him under indentures by the treasurer, with the assent of the council, to the value of such arrears or any part thereof, according to the valuation expressed in the said indentures; and should these letters patent be found invalid, they are to be amended and, if necessary, made anew.

April 2. The like assignment to Henry Barton in consideration of the loan of 1,200l. of 400l. on the port of Boston, and of 200l. 100l. 100l. and 400l. on the ports of Kingston-on-Hull, Ipswich, Sandwich, and London,
