June 10. Grant, by advice of the council, and in pursuance of the act of Parliament of 2 Henry VI for giving security to persons making loans to the king [Rolls of Parliament, Vol. IV, pp. 210 to 211], to the mayor and citizens of London, who have lent him 3,000l. for the defence of the realm, that they, their executors and assigns, are to have repayment out of the subsidy on wool, hides, and wool-fells at the rate of 1s. 4d. on each sack of wool, and 13s. 4d. on each 240 wool-fells, in the ports of London and Ipswich; and should this not suffice to repay them, the deficit is to be made up out of other farms, issues and profits of the realm of England, in places to be appointed by the council.

By K. and C. in parliament.

June 6. The like to the bishop of Winchester, for the loan of 11,032l. 16s. 1d. Westminster. to be repaid out of the customs levied and to be levied since Easter last from natives and aliens; also out of the subsidies on wool, hides, and wool-fells, tin, tuns of wine, and other merchandise of aliens, shipped or to be shipped in all the ports of England, after deducting the assignments thereof made before 1 May, 3 Henry VI, and the fees and rewards of the collectors and controllers of the said customs and subsidies. One such customer in each port for the future is to be appointed at the nomination of the said bishop or his executors to receive the customs on behalf of the said bishop, and pay them over to him. Grant also for the said bishop to have repayment out of the money arisen and to arise since the said feast of Easter, out of the issues, profits, and farms of all lordships, manors, hundreds, cantredes, lands, tenements, and possessions which are in, or shall come into the king's hands, through the minority of any heirs in his ward, after deducting any sums granted before the said 1st of May to any other persons. Also should the bishop become indebted in any way to the king or his heirs, he may balance such debt against the amount still due to him; and he may also have repayment from any future subsidy by whatever name granted to the king by the clergy or commonalty of the realm. Moreover for further security the said bishop may retain a certain golden crown pledged with him by the king's father, and a certain golden collar with precious stones pledged with him by the present treasurer of England, by advice of the council, until he is repaid the
