Feb. 24. It has been shown to the king and council by John duke of Bedford that Henry V, in consideration of the surrender by the petitioner of the Percy inheritance, granted him and his heirs male 1,000 marks a year at the Exchequer and 2,000 marks a year at the receipt of the duchy of Cornwall, until he should have lands to the value of 3,000 marks a year in recompense. Now therefore the king, by advice of his council, grants to the said duke, and heirs male of his body, in part recompense, according to their extent, of the said annuity of 1,000 marks, the custody of all the castle, lordships, manors, lands, tenements, rents and services late of Richard de Veer, late earl of Oxford, tenant in chief of Henry V, which by reason of the death of the said late earl and by reason of the minority of John, his son and heir, came to the hands of Henry V, and are in the hands of the present king (except the manors of Greyes and Prayeres in Hengham Sybyll, the manor of Tylebury by Clare, the manor of Estonhalle in Borle,
