
The earlier portion, extending from 782 to 1148, appears to be a copy of a compilation made in Northumbria about 1160, to which Hoveden added little. From 1148 to 1169—very valuable portion of this work—the matter is derived from another source, to which Hoveden appears to have supplied little. From 1170 to 1192 is the portion which corresponds to some extent with the Chronicle known under the name of Benedict of Peterborough (see No. 40). From 1192 to 1209 may be said to be wholly Hoveden’s work.
