9 HENRY VI.—PART 2.

MEMBRANES 16 to 18.

MEMBRANES 12 and 11.

July 17. Westminster. The like to the mayor, bailiffs and burgesses of Kyngeston upon Hull of letters patent dated 10 December, 2 Henry V.

MEMBRANE 10.

June 28. Westminster. George Breynton, Thomas Barton, Thomas Ly3tfot and Thomas Smyth acquired to themselves and their heirs from John Merbury, esquire, Edward Brugge, esquire, and William Poleyn, the manor of Dymmok, co. Gloucester, which is held in chief, and, after entering therein, granted it to the said John Merbury and Agnes, his wife, and John Monyon and their heirs, and they, after entering, granted it to Henry Bourghchier, count of Ewc, James de Audeley, knight, Maurice Berkeley, John Pauncetfot, knight, Richard de la Mare, John Russell, John Brugge, Guy Whityngton, Robert Andrewe, Nicholas Poynes, Edward Brugge and John Langeley, and their heirs and they also entered. The king's licence was not obtained in these matters, but for 2l. paid in the hanaper he has pardoned the trespasses therein done and licences the last named grantees to retain the manor.

July 4. Westminster. The king's father, on 26 January, 1 Henry V, amongst other things, granted to Joan, queen of England, and to Thomas Periby, clerk, and John Tybbay, clerk, the last now deceased, at her nomination and to her use, 12l. 13s. 4d. a year from the custody of the alien priory of St. James, adding that, if any of the priories, manors, farms and lands similarly granted to her and the said two clerks for her life, by non-payment or surrender of letters patent, by the death of occupiers or insolvency of farmers, or by special or general resumption by authority of Parliament, or otherwise, should come to the king's hands, they should immediately remain to the said queen, with everything appertaining to them, to the value of the several sums granted to her out of them. Also in the king's last Parliament held at Leicester it was ordained, at the prayer of the commonalty of England, that the said queen should have for life her dower and all alien priories belonging thereto, as well as all manors, lands, rents, fee farms, sums, tributes (apportus) and other possessions granted to her, or to other persons to her use, in lieu of dower or otherwise, for her life, whether by letters patent of Henry IV or of Henry V. Now it has been shown to the king, on her behalf, that by virtue of the peace made between Charles, then king of the French, and the king's father, on 21 May, 8 Henry V, and of a certain ordinance, made in the Parliament held at Leicester on 30 April, 2 Henry V,
