Hugh Harpere, clerk, William Peion, Stephen White, Thomas Bromwyche, and Thomas de la Hay lately acquired to them and their heirs from John Chaundos, 'chivalor,' and Philippa, his wife, the manor of Faunhope, held in chief, and entered therein without licence. Harpere and White then died and Thomas de la Hay released all his right to Peion and Bromwyche, also without licence. Then Peion died, and Bromwyche enfeoffed Robert Sireston and John Goldyngton, still surviving, and John Chancy, Robert Kendale and John Swanescombe, since deceased, of the manor; also without licence. And afterwards the said Goldyngtor enfeoffed John Cornewayll, 'chivalor,' thereof. All these purchasers entered without licence, and the said Robert Sireston, also without licence released his right in the manor to the said John Cornewayll and his heirs. But for 22l. 6s. 4d. paid in the hanaper the king has pardoned these trespasses and granted licence for John Cornewayll to retain the manor in fee.

Appointment, during pleasure, of John Geryn and John Somer, auditor of the Exchequer, to hear and determine the accounts of the chamberlain and other ministers in the parts of South Wales and North Wales and in the county of Chester; either of them receiving, for South Wales, 10l. and for North Wales and Chester, 10l. as his fee, and 5s. a day for wage and expenses from the day of leaving London to that of return, both such days included, by the hands of the chamberlains there.
