*Inspecticus and confirmation by advice and assent of the lords spiritual and temporal in the Parliament held at Westminster in the king's first year, to the abbess and convent of Burham of the following:

Nov. 15.
Westminster.

Re-appointment, during pleasure, by advice and assent of the council, of Master Thomas Chace, doctor of theology, as chancellor of Ireland. While holding the office he was summoned to attend the king and council, and left Ireland for that purpose, after appointing a deputy who, however, died during the absence of his principal, whereby in the opinion of many persons and according to the custom of Ireland, the office of chancellor of Ireland has become void: licence for him henceforth to appoint a deputy when absent from Ireland for good cause.
