the abbey and of its temporalities, saving to the king the knights' fees held of the same, rendering 9l. for each voidance. And whereas they have yearly three fairs, to wit, one within their manor of Middelton on the eve, day and morrow of St. Sampson, another within their manor of Stockelond on the eve, day and morrow of the Assumption, and the third within their manor of Brodesydeling on the eve and day of St. Nicholas the Bishop, grant to them, on their petition, that they may hold the fair within the manor of Stockelond on the eve, day and morrow of Michaelmas, and the fair within the manor of Brodesydeling on the two days before and the day of St. Nicholas the Bishop.

By K. etc.

Licence for Nicholas Dixon, clerk, baron of the Exchequer, for good service to Henry IV, Henry V and the king, to found a chantry of one chaplain to celebrate divine service daily at the altar of St. Mary in the church of Quadryng, co. Lincoln, for the good estate of the king and queen Margaret and Nicholas and for their souls after death and for the souls of his father and mother and Robert and John, his brothers; to be called the chantry of St. Mary, Quadryng, and the chaplain to be able to plead and be impleaded in any court and to acquire in mortmain lands and rents not held in chief to the value of 10 marks a year.

Pardon to Thomas Udale of London, 'yoman' of the following felonies, murder and trespasses and of the king's suit therefor and any consequent outlawries, to wit, touching his indictments in London before Thomas Beaufitz, coroner in the city, and Robert Horn and Geoffrey Boleyn, sheriffs of London, on view of the body of John Wodhill, 'horner,' lying dead in the parish of St. Martin within Ludgate in the ward of Faryndon Within, and in the Guildhall before Simon Eyre, late mayor, Robert Davners, recorder of London, Henry Frowyk, John Gedney, Stephen Broun, John Pattesle, Robert Clopton and John Atherle, aldermen, keepers of the peace and justices of oyer and terminer within the liberty of the city, of having on the night of Sunday before St. Luke the Evangelist last at London in the said ward and parish with a staff worth 2d. struck the said John Wodhill on the left side of the head to the brain, whereof he died on Tuesday following; and before the said mayor, recorder and aldermen of having on the same night between the eighth and ninth hour in the same ward and parish assaulted William Fruterer, servant of Thomas Bernard, John Gulle, 'sporyer' one of the constables of that ward, and John Milton, 'sporyer.'

By p.s. etc.

Grant for life to the king's serjeant, Thomas Derwent, of the office of being one of the serjeants at arms about the warden and keeper of the town and castles of Carlisle and the west march of England towards Scotland, the king being informed that the said warden has been wont to have such a serjeant especially at each time of agreement between him and the warden of the Scottish march towards England for the amending of any breach of the truces between the king and his kinsman, king of the Scots; taking the usual fees and wages from the issues of Cumberland.

By p.s. etc.

Grant for life to John Barker of the office of bailiff of Rysyng, co. Norfolk, with the appurtenant fees and wages, as Robert Godeman had the same.

By p.s. etc.