Presentation of John Lynne, parson of the church of Rympton, in the diocese of Bath and Wells, to the church of Lokoington, in the diocese of Salisbury, in the king’s gift by reason of the custody of the land and heir of Thomas de Bradeston, knight, tenant in chief, being in his hands; on an exchange of benefices with John Tille of Wemington.

Grant, in consideration of the abundant fruit yielded by the college of the House of Merton, Oxford, in lettered men and others, and for 60l. paid to the king by the warden and scholars, to them and their successors in perpetuity, of the messuage or inn called 'Bottesyn,' with the cellar, shops and solers adjacent to it, in the parish of St. Martin, Oxford, in aid of the support of the poor scholars in the schools, upon the petition of the said warden and scholars, alleging that William Durant and William Arden, clerks, now deceased, and John Wiliot, clerk, William Berton, John Maundour, Thomas Styne, Walter Staunton, John Ballard and Richard Fitz Symond had acquired it in fee and intended to grant it to them for the purpose aforesaid as soon as they could obtain royal licence, but under colour of a suggestion that it was acquired in fraud and collusion contrary to the statute of mortmain, it was seized into the late king’s hands, after inquisition taken by the escheator in the county of Oxford. By a later inquisition it was found not fraudulently acquired, and it was decreed that the seizure he removed and the mesne profits delivered to them, notwithstanding which—under colour of another inquisition by John Salvyn, escheator there, at which it was falsely presented, by the procurement of their adversaries, that Robert Payn, of Greudon, an outlaw for felony, held the premises at the date of his outlawry, and that William Durant, sometime warden, and Master John Wilyot, sometime fellow, had appropriated the same without licence—it has been again seized into the king’s hands.

Pardon, for 5 marks paid to the king by Margaret, late the wife of Robert Gossen, of Keleby, Thomas de Hagh and Agnes his wife, to them for their trespass in acquiring to themselves and the heirs of the said Agnes, ten acres of land, twenty-eight of meadow and 6 marks 3s. 11d. rent in Stalybrigland and Keleby from Walter de Wyhum, parson of the church of Godhay, and Richard de Brokesby, vicar of Castre, tenants in chief, and entering thereon without licence; and licence to retain the premises as acquired.

Grant, for life, to Thomas de Hastely alias Asteleye, of 100s. yearly from the issues of the county of Warwick, in lieu of 10l. yearly granted to him, for life, at the Exchequer of Ireland by letters patent dated 9 May, 35 Edward III., surrendered.

Pardon to John Prince, 'tasker,' detained in Lincoln Castle gaol, for the death of William de Askeby of Neuton, as it appears by the record of William de Skypwyth and William de Burgh, justices assigned to deliver that gaol, that when tarrying in Waldneuton, he killed him in self-defence.
