1384.
July 24.
Westminster.
Presentation of William de Kelby, chaplain, to the church of Tychewell, in the diocese of Norwich, void by the resignation of the king's clerk, William de Horbury, and in the king's gift by reason of the temporalities in England of the alien abbot of Ivry being in his hands on account of the war with France.

July 27.
Westminster.
Revocation of the collation (if any) made to John de Swyndon by Philip de Courtenay, the king's lieutenant in Ireland, of the prebend of New Castle of Lyons in St. Patrick's cathedral, Dublin, to which Nicholas Flemmyng was provided by the apostolic see, and which by due process he obtained and long had possession of, until, at the suit of the said John, suggesting that the presentation was the king's, the said Philip in the king's right bestowed it upon him, and he intruded thereon; the said John having failed to obey the king's writ to appear in Chancery on the morrow of St. Margaret last to show his title, and the said Philip's right to bestow benefices not extending to prebends.

July 24.
Westminster.
Grant, at the supplication of the king's esquire, John Beauchamp, to the abbot and convent of Berdeseye, that they and their successors shall have and enjoy all the franchises and liberties whereof their predecessors have been seized from time immemorial, notwithstanding the not claiming of the same by any of their predecessors or any seizure thereof into the king's hands for that cause.
