Masseworth, whereout the said 10 marks of rent issued, were held of the honor of Walingford, successively received the said rent during the minority of Roger, and John Huys and Margery, his wife, claiming that one messuage, three carucates of land, 40 acres of meadow, 20 of pasture, 20 of wood, and 100 of rent, parcel of the said manor, and the said advowson were held of them in right of the said Margaret, demised the custody thereof, together with the marriage of the heir, to Joan, wife of the said William, mother of the said Roger, at the yearly value of 12 marks, by virtue of which demise she held the premises until St. Peter ad Vincula, 7 Richard II. when the said Roger attained his majority, the residue of the said manor, hamlets, etc., being in her hands as dower from the day of the said William's death, though no assignment of dower by writ out of Chancery was ever made to her. Subsequently the said Roger being of full age entered upon two parts of the premises without suing out his livery or any writ of _dete undemitt extremum_ having issued out of Chancery or other due process of law. Wherefore the king now pardons the trespasses alike of the king's father and mother and of the said Roger and Joan and their receipt of the issues aforesaid, and also the trespass of the said Roger in marrying without licence; and grants that he shall have the said two thirds in fee, and that the said Joan shall have her reasonable dower therefrom, saving always to the king the homage and fealty of the said Roger, and action pertaining to the king against the said John Huys and Margery, his wife, for issues received by them after the said William's death.
