Membrane 32.

Sept. 12. Assignment to Michael de la Pole, earl of Suffolk and his heirs, who were lately granted 500l. a year of rent from the lands and tenements of William de Ufford, late earl of Suffolk, in reversion after the decease of queen Anne and Isabella, countess of Suffolk, who hold part thereof for life severally, of the following, viz., the castle, town, manor and honor of Eye, co. Suffolk, to the value of 200l. a year, deducting therefrom 40 marks of rent payable yearly by him for his manor of Stradbrok, heretofore granted to him by the king in exchange for another rent; the hundred of Hertesmere and Stowe, in the same county, to the value of 16l. a year, and a certain yearly farm of 23l. 16s. od. from the manor of Combsy in the same county; the manor of Causton, co. Norfolk, to the value of 53l. 6s. 8d. a year, the manors of Burgh, co. Norfolk, to the value of 31l. 8s. 10½d. a year, and Gestnyngthorp, co. Essex, to the value of 12l. a year, all which are held by queen Anne; the manors of Haghle, co. Suffolk, to the value of 97l. 10s. 11d. a year, and Thorndon, co. Suffolk, to the value of 35l. 13s. 7½d., which are held by the said countess; and inasmuch as the premises fall short in value of 500l. by the sum of 56l. 16s. 7d. the king further grants to the said Michael, in tail male, the additional reversion, after the death of the said queen and countess, of the manor of Lowystoft and hundred of Luddygland, co. Suffolk, to the value of 100 marks a year, which manor and hundred he holds by the king's grant until the reversion of the aforesaid lands falls in by their death, after their death he is to pay 9l. 16s. 9d. to the king and his heirs on account of the same exceeding by that sum the aforesaid sum of 56l. 16s. 7d.
