To remove all doubt as to the provision in the former letters patent cited above touching the maintenance of suits on their behalf by any citizen and the penalty thereby incurred, the king hereby grants a pardon to the mayor and all the citizens of all imprisonment, ransom or forfeiture incurred by breach of that provision. But if the said parties come within 80 leagues of the city or endeavour to come by themselves, their wives, children or servants, this pardon is to be null and void, and similarly the pardon to the mayor and citizens is to be void upon any future breach by them of the provision as to maintenance. By K. & C.

Memorandum that on 9 June last John atte Fen, saddler, John Andrewe, goldsmith, John Whatelee, mercer, John Claydon, skinner, Richard Bernard, 'broyderer,' and John Halle, goldsmith, all citizens of London, personally before the king in Chancery became mainpernors for the said John Norhampton.

The same persons at the same date became mainpernors for the said John More and Richard Norbury.
