

1390.

Membrane 15d—cont.

Nicholas de Salesbury, clerk, during the life of the said John Salesbury, who granted the manor to Nicholas to the use of him the said John Salesbury, the latter having no other estate therein than by the feoffment of him, the said John Purcell, who, now that by the forfeiture of John Salesbury it has been seized into the king's hands, begs that the rent may be paid to him.

*MEMBRANE 14d.*Dec. 8.
Westminster.

Commission to Walter atte Lec, Richard de Sutton and Thomas Maundevyle, knights, Edmund de Brokesburn, Robert Bekerton, the king's serjeant-at-arms, Clement Spice, Simon Fordham and Thomas Fraunceys, to enquire what houses of Thomas Hardyng, of Manytre, co. Essex, were wasted and pulled down in the time of the insurrection, for what sum they can be repaired, and what goods and chattels of the said Thomas were seized and carried away at the time, by whom and how and whether he recovered any money therefor, and of whom.

*MEMBRANE 13d.*Dec. 12.
Westminster.

Commission to John de Felton, sheriff of Northumberland, Walter Heron, Robert Lyle, John Maners, Henry Heton and Sampson Hardyng to cause to be extended the following lands, etc. which by divers inquisitions taken before Amandus Mounceux, late escheator in Northumberland, it was found that Alan de Heton, knight, tenant in chief, died seised of, viz. lands and tenements in Lowyk, burgages and ten acres of land in Bamburgh, burgages and lands in Wollore with appurtenances called 'Hacford land,' one 'husband' land in Kyllom, one 'husband' land in Caldmerton, a burgage in Tynemuth, lands and tenements in Bolsdon, late of Simon de Weltden, two messuages and eighty acres of land in Charlton North, the manor of Unthanke, one 'husbondland' in Folbiry, two acres of 'husbondland' in Bradforde, 100 acres of land in Swynhowe, the manor of Trikulton, 100 acres in Schotley, 100 acres in the field of Horton, Gollodwynfelde in the field of Bradforde, the manor of Angram and its advowson; and to certify all their proceedings herein.

1391.

June 1.
Westminster.

Commission to John de Grey of Codenore, Robert de Swylyngton, John de Annesley, John Kentwode, Robert de Plesyngton and Robert de Cokfeld, knights, Thomas More, clerk, Hugh de Annesley, Robert Martell, Thomas Claymond and Thomas de Merdeleye to enquire touching the complaint of queen Anne and the people of the parts adjacent to Nottingham and Colwyk upon the river Trent that there has been heretofore in Colwyk a trench by which part of the Trent water used to keep its course as far as the mills, weirs and stanks of Richard Biron in that town and descending through the weirs and mills fell into the Trent and by its fall and divers works, narrowings, breaches and risings in the trench and elsewhere in the river itself, the right course of the water is diverted, and the said Richard has kept the weirs and stanks closed and not open, so that ships and boats cannot go and return to the castle and town of Nottingham. If the commissioners find by inspection of the water or due information that the course of the river is so diverted, and that the said Richard keeps the weirs and stanks closed, they are empowered to