Licence—with the assent of the present Parliament and on the petition exhibited therein by Ralph Canon, clerk, that Master Thomas Weston, having long been in peaceable possession as parson of Hyghhamme in the diocese of Bath and Wells, was despoiled thereof by Robert Norton under pretext of a papal provision, whereupon the said Thomas appealed to the Roman court and recovered it by three definite sentences but died before their execution before publication of the statute of provisors in the thirteenth year, and although the Pope, deciding that the said Robert had no title to the church, granted to the said Ralph surrogation of the execution of the said sentences unexecuted in the lifetime of Thomas, petitioner cannot prosecute on account of the said statute—for him to prosecute the same and enjoy it, no liege acting in his name in fulfilment of the said execution, whether over the sea or not, to incur any penalty thereon for account of the said statute, but this is not to be a precedent.
