MEMBRANE 1.

Grant, reciting (1) letters patent of the late king declaring that the children, male and female, of Ingram de Coucy and Isabel, daughter of the said king, wherever born, should be as capable of inheriting in England as any born within the realm, notwithstanding any ordinances or statutes to the contrary, and (2) letters patent of the late king granting that all the manors, lands and tenements, held for life by Joan, late the wife of John de Coupelond, which by her death reverted to the said king and his heirs by virtue of the said Ingram's grant by his charter to the said king, should remain to the said Ingram and Isabel, and the heirs of their bodies, together with the knights' fees, advowsons, &c., pertaining to the said manors and lands, all which on account of the said Ingram's rebellion were seized into the king's hands; (3) that the king subsequently granted the same to Robert de Veer, duke of Ireland, and Philippa, late his wife, daughter of the aforesaid Ingram and Isabel, for the term of the said Philippa's life, and that the same were forfeited by reason of the judgement in the Parliament held in the eleventh year, delivered in error, and annulled in that held in the twenty-first; (4) letters patent dated 25 March in the eleventh year: Calendar, 1385-1389, p. 1231, granting the premises to the use of the said Philippa for life; (5) that the manor of Cogheull, co. York, a moiety of the manor of Kirkeby in Kendale, co. Cumberland and Westmorland, and the manors of Maureholme, Warton, Kerneford, Lyndesheved, Wyresdale, Scotford, Assheton, Quivington, Casterton, Thorneton, Midelton and Kneton, co. Lancaster and York, are parcels of the said Joan's possessions; and (6) that the said Philippa was born at Eltham, co. Kent, and was the issue of the said Ingram and Isabel to the said Philippa that she and her heirs and children (sic) be and be capable of being lieges of the king and of his heirs, and of holding goods and possessions within the realm by right of inheritance, and of commencing and defending actions, and be reputed everywhere the king's lieges, notwithstanding the birth out of England of the said Ingram or other ancestor of hers, or their adherence to France; and further, because Robert, bishop of London, has surrendered his estate in the premises under the letters patent above cited dated 25 March in the eleventh year, grant to the said Philippa, and the heirs of her body, of all the premises.
